PURPOSE, OBJECTIVES, AND SCOPE OF COMMITTEES

Why does council have advisory and reference committees?

Advisory and reference committees provide a mechanism by which members of the community can play a role in the formulation of Council policy, direction and practice. Committees assist Council to engage with and obtain feedback from the community.

Objectives

Advisory and reference committees are established by Ku-ring-gai Council to:

- harness the views and expertise of the wider community
- assist Council in its understanding of, and approach to, specific or localised issues, initiatives or community assets
- provide a structured approach to the ongoing involvement of community members in Council affairs and the democratic process.

Scope

The scope of each advisory and reference committee is outlined in its Charter. Committees may make recommendations to Council, but do not have the authority to make decisions on Council's behalf.

Delegation of functions and decision-making

Advisory and reference committees do not have delegated authority from Council.

How are advisory and reference committees established?

Advisory and reference committees are established by a resolution of Council. Prior to establishing a committee, Council will generally determine the following criteria:

- Terms of reference for the committee
- Expertise or relevant background which community members should possess
- Size (minimum and maximum) of the committee
- Quorum requirements
- Frequency of meetings (minimum and regularity)
- Any specific interest groups that are to be represented on the committee (i.e. government departments, community organisations)
- Term and tenure of members.

This Guideline serves to address these elements.

Ku-ring-gai Council has established the following advisory and reference committees:

- Active Transport Reference Committee
- Arts and Culture Advisory Committee
- Audit, Risk and Improvement Committee
- Flood Risk Management Committee
- Heritage Reference Committee
- Ku-ring-gai Traffic Committee
- Multicultural Advisory Committee
- Status of Women Advisory Committee
- Sustainable Recreation Advisory Group
- Youth Advisory Committee.

Terms of reference

Details of the terms of reference (or charter) of each committee are presented in this guide. The terms of reference for each committee may be updated from time to time by Council resolution.

Evaluation and review

Each Committee¹ will undertake a review before the end of each term of council to ensure it is operating effectively, delivering on its roles and responsibilities, and to recommend any changes to its terms of reference.

Any recommendations to make significant changes to committee terms of reference (or dissolve a committee) arising from a review is to be reported to Council at the first ordinary meeting of Council following the local government elections.

¹ Note that the Audit, Risk and Improvement Committee (ARIC) has separate reporting, review and assessment provisions under its Charter. This section does not apply to the ARIC.

MEMBERSHIP OF ADVISORY AND REFERENCE COMMITTEES

Term

An advisory or reference committee continues until such time as it is dissolved by Council. Council may dissolve a committee at any time by resolution.

Councillor membership

Councillors will be appointed to committees at the first ordinary meeting of Council following the local government elections. Appointments are to be made at the same time as the Mayoral election, which will generally be every two years.

All other Councillors may attend committee meetings in a non-voting capacity and as observers only.

Community membership

Community membership will be in accordance with the terms of reference of the respective committee. Representatives should carry adequate expertise, experience or the specific knowledge necessary to fulfil their obligations and to contribute to the output of the committee.

Unless otherwise provided in its terms of reference, Council must appoint all committee members by a resolution of Council. Similarly, Council may terminate a person's committee membership at any time by a resolution of Council.

Nominations for appointment to a committee should generally be submitted in writing to Council, for consideration against the committee terms of reference.

The term of office for all non-Councillor members will be as set out in the relevant terms of reference. Committee members are generally eligible for re-appointment.

Vacation of office

Membership of the committee will become vacant in the following circumstances:

- If the member resigns membership by notice in writing to the committee
- If the member ceases to be a member of the organisation which he/ she represents
- Upon the death of the member
- If the member becomes a mentally incapacitated person
- If Council in its absolute discretion resolves to terminate a person's membership, including for reason of absence from committee meetings.

Chairperson

Generally, a Chairperson and Deputy Chairperson will be appointed by Council resolution.

The role of the Chairperson is to:

- chair all meetings, open meetings, welcome and introduce members and guests
 - keep people at the meeting focused on the topics being discussed
 - encourage all members to participate, and ensure adequate opportunity is given to members who wish to speak
 - ensure correct meeting procedures are followed and maintain control of the meeting
 - keep track of time
 - make sure members are aware of decisions being made and that the minute taker has recorded decisions of the meeting
 - act impartially and uses discretionary powers in the best interests of members and in accordance with the meeting practices
 - ensure all statutory regulations and organisational rules (such as Code of Conduct) are observed
 - close meetings after business at hand has properly concluded.

In the absence of the Chairperson, the Deputy Chairperson will chair the meeting.

MEETING PROCEDURES FOR ADVISORY AND REFERENCE COMMITTEES

Legislative requirements

The Local Government Act 1993 does not legally bind meeting procedures for advisory and reference committees². As such, this guide sets the meeting procedures that these committees must comply with.

Notice of meeting

Notice of meetings will be provided to members, along with all Councillors, at least three days prior to the meeting. The period of notice should not include the day the notice is given or the day the meeting is held.

The notice will specify the time, place and date of the meeting and the business proposed to be transacted. Notice of less than three days may be given of a meeting in an emergency.

All Councillors are entitled to attend committee meetings

Councillors who are not members of a committee are entitled to attend meetings as observers only. Non-member Councillors are not entitled to add items to the agenda, move or second a motion, vote or speak at the meeting.

Quorum

The quorum for a meeting will be as resolved by Council at the time that the committee is established.

A committee meeting must be adjourned if a quorum is not present:

- at the commencement of the meeting where the number of apologies received for the meeting indicates there will not be a quorum for the meeting
- within half an hour after the time designated for the holding of the meeting, or
- at any time during the meeting.

Starting times for meetings

The committee shall generally set the frequency, time, date and place of its meetings.

Meetings are to commence at the time designated for the meeting.

Agenda

The agenda is an organised list of the business that will be transacted at the meeting. A copy of the agenda will be distributed to all committee members at least three days before the meeting.

² The Local Government Act 1993 and Local Government (General) Regulation 2021 contain provisions relating to the conduct of meetings of councils and committees of councils of which all the members are Councillors. These do not necessarily relate to advisory and reference committees.

Each item of business to be discussed at the meeting needs to be placed on the agenda.

If any items on the agenda are not discussed due to limitations of time, they are carried over to the next meeting agenda.

Order of business

Each item of business is generally discussed in the order in which it appears on the agenda.

Voting

Voting can be used as a mechanism for members to express their agreement or disagreement on an item.

The terms of reference for each committee set out the requirements for voting.

A member who is present but who abstains from voting on a motion is counted as having voted against the motion.

Members who are not present may not vote by proxy or by any other means.

Minutes of meetings

The committee is to keep full and accurate minutes of the proceedings of meetings. It will be the responsibility of Council staff attending the meeting to take the minutes.

Minutes of a committee meeting will record any voting to determine recommendations of the committee to Council. The minutes will also record any recommendations a committee makes by consensus. At the discretion of the Chairperson, the minutes may also include brief commentary to reflect discussion on a matter. Upon request, a member may have their name recorded in the minutes as being against a recommendation of the committee.

The draft minutes of a meeting will be circulated to committee members within 10 working days of the meeting. Members will be provided with five working days to comment on the accuracy of the minutes. The minutes will subsequently be referred to the Chairperson for approval as an accurate record of the meeting.

Once approved by the Chairperson, the minutes will be put to an ordinary meeting of Council for adoption. The recommendations of a committee, so far as adopted by the Council at an ordinary meeting of Council, are resolutions of the Council.

The minutes will also be placed on the agenda to be noted at the subsequent committee meeting.

General Manager and staff attendance at meetings

The General Manager is entitled to attend committee meetings.

On consultation with the Chairperson, the General Manager shall ensure the appropriate staff attend the meetings.

The role of the staff attending will be to offer advice and to answer questions within their individual fields of expertise and experience. Council staff are not permitted to vote unless they are members of the committee.

Duration of meetings

Committee meetings shall generally close at the scheduled finish time. However, a motion to extend the meeting for up to an additional 30 minutes may be considered by the Chairperson.

Matters listed on the agenda that are not dealt with by the conclusion of the meeting will be carried forward to the next meeting of the committee.

Absence from committee meetings

All committee members must make reasonable efforts to attend meetings.

All committee members are required to advise the Chairperson when they are unable to attend a meeting. The absence of committee members from the meeting is to be recorded in the minutes.

Council may by resolution terminate a person's membership of a committee due to unreasonable absence from meetings. As a guide, it may be considered unreasonable absence if a committee member:

- has been absent from three consecutive meetings without giving reasons acceptable to the committee, or
- has been absent from at least half of the meetings of the committee held during the immediately preceding year without having given reasons acceptable to the committee.

Recording of committee meetings prohibited without permission

A person may use a recording device to record the proceedings of a meeting of a committee only with the authority of the committee.

A person may be expelled from a committee meeting for using or having used a device to record the meeting in contravention with this section.

Code of Conduct and conflicts of interest

The Ku-ring-gai Council Code of Conduct applies to all members of advisory and reference committees.

Amongst other things, the Code provides that members of committees must not conduct themselves in a manner that:

- is likely to bring Council or other Council officials into disrepute
- is contrary to statutory requirements or Council's administrative requirements or policies
- is improper or unethical
- is an abuse of power
- causes, comprises or involves intimidation or verbal abuse
- involves the misuse of your position to obtain a private benefit

- constitutes harassment or bullying behaviour under the Code or is unlawfully discriminatory.

In relation to meetings, members of advisory and reference committees:

- must comply with rulings by the Chairperson
- must not engage in bullying behaviour towards the Chairperson, other Council officials or any members of the public present in committee meetings or other proceedings of the Council (such as, but not limited to, workshops and briefing sessions).
- must not engage in conduct that disrupts committee meetings or other proceedings of the Council (such as, but not limited to, workshops and briefing sessions), or that would otherwise be inconsistent with the orderly conduct of meetings.

All committee members are required to declare conflicts of interest, including pecuniary interests, in accordance with the Code of Conduct.

All committee members must declare and manage any conflicts of interest they may have in matters being considered at meetings in accordance with the Code. All declarations of conflicts of interest and how the conflict of interest was managed by the person who made the declaration must be recorded in the minutes of the meeting at which the declaration was made.

There are two types of interests – pecuniary and non-pecuniary:

- Pecuniary Interests – Dealt with in Part 4 of the Code of Conduct. Under clause 4.1 of the Code, pecuniary interests are interests you may have in a matter because of a reasonable likelihood or expectation of appreciable financial gain or loss to you or a person referred to in clause 4.3. These persons include your spouse or de facto partner, your relative, your partner or employer or a company or other body of which you, or your nominee, partner or employer, is a shareholder or member.
- Non-Pecuniary Interests – Dealt with in Part 5 of the Code of Conduct. Under clause 5.1 of the Code, non-pecuniary interests are private or personal interests that do not amount to a pecuniary interest. These commonly arise out of family or personal relationships, or out of involvement in sporting, social, religious or other cultural groups and associations, and may include an interest of a financial nature.

These interests can be classified further as “significant” or “less than significant” depending on the extent of the interest declared.

The following procedure must be followed for the disclosure of pecuniary and non-pecuniary interests by a committee member:

- The committee member must disclose to the meeting any agenda item(s) the member has a pecuniary or non-pecuniary interest in, as well as the nature of the interest, and whether it is significant or less than significant.
- If the interest declared is pecuniary or significant non-pecuniary, the committee member must leave the meeting before discussion, debate and voting on that matter.
- If the interest declared is less than significant non-pecuniary, the committee member must provide an explanation of why the conflict of interest does not require any further action in the circumstances.

- The Chairperson must ensure the minutes of the committee meeting will record the disclosure of interest and how it was managed.

Attendance at committee meetings may be by audio visual link

Members of advisory and reference committees may attend meetings by audio visual link, as set out below.

What is an “audio-visual link”?

For the purposes of this guideline, an audio-visual link is a facility that enables audio and visual communication between persons at different places.

Approval to attend committee meetings by audio-visual link

Members may attend committee meetings remotely by audio-visual link.

Members must notify the General Manager (or delegate) of their intention to attend a meeting remotely by audio-visual link no later than 2.00 pm on the day of the meeting, to allow time to set up the remote technology.

Staff may attend committee meetings by audio visual link with the approval of the General Manager.

Attendance by members at committee meetings by audio-visual link

Where a member attends a meeting by audio-visual link, they are to be taken as attending the meeting in person and will have the same voting rights as if they were attending the meeting in person.

Members must give their full attention to the business and proceedings of the meeting when attending a meeting by audio-visual link.

Members must be appropriately dressed when attending meetings by audio-visual link and must ensure that no items are within sight of the meeting that are inconsistent with the maintenance of order at the meeting or that are likely to bring the committee into disrepute.

Members who are not visible, not able to hear or not able to be heard when attending a meeting by audio-visual link, whether for technical or other reasons, will be taken not to be present at the meeting and may not speak on matters nor vote until the issue is rectified.

If remote audio-visual technology is not available at a meeting for technical or other reasons, the meeting will proceed (subject to quorum requirements) and members seeking to attend remotely will be treated as absent and granted an apology.

Where a member attends a meeting by audio-visual link, the minutes of the meeting must record that they attended the meeting by audio-visual link.

Conflicts of interest

Members attending a meeting by audio-visual link must declare and manage any conflicts of interest they may have in matters being considered at the meeting as if they were attending the meeting in person.

Where a member has declared a pecuniary or significant non-pecuniary conflict of interest in a matter being discussed at the meeting, the member's audio-visual link to the meeting must be managed such that the member must not be in sight or hearing of the meeting at any time during which the matter is being considered or discussed by the committee, or at any time during which the committee is voting on the matter.

Confidentiality

Members attending a meeting by audio-visual link must ensure that no other person is within sight or hearing of the meeting at any time that confidential matters are being considered.

Maintenance of order

Where a member is attending a meeting by audio-visual link, the Chairperson (or a person authorised by the Chairperson) may mute the member's audio link to the meeting for the purposes of maintaining order.

If a member attending a meeting by audio-visual link is expelled from a meeting for an act of disorder, the Chairperson of the meeting (or a person authorised by the Chairperson), may terminate the member's audio-visual link to the meeting.

FLOOD RISK MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

The NSW Government has prepared its Flood Prone Land Policy and Floodplain Development Manual (2005) to guide councils in managing the risks associated with floods and flooding. It achieves this through a floodplain risk management process which involves the development of flood studies, flood risk management studies and flood risk management plans. The manual indicates that responsibility for the management of flood risks remains with local government and it assists councils to balance the conflicting objectives of the floodplain through a risk management process. The establishment of a Flood Risk Management Committee as an advisory committee of Council is an important step in the floodplain risk management process.

The committee acts as both a focus and forum for the discussion of technical, social, economic and environmental matters relating to floodplain management and for the distillation of possibly differing objectives and viewpoints on these matters. The committee is tasked with seeking solutions to existing, future and continuing flood risk issues, not solely on addressing the past.

The terms of reference for the Flood Risk Management Committee are outlined below:

Role of the committee

The Floodplain Risk Management Committee's main objective is to assist Council in developing and implementing flood risk management plans. The plans are to be developed for catchments within the Council's area of responsibility.

To achieve this, the committee will focus on:

- formulating objectives, strategies and outcomes sought from the process
- acting as a liaison between the local community and Council and advising Council regarding matters involving flooding that can be included within the flood risk management studies and plan
- acting to increase awareness within the Council and the community regarding flooding
- identifying the flood problems to be assessed, including prioritisation
- ensuring that the flood management studies and plans are developed and implemented in accordance with the manual
- monitoring the progress and findings of studies being undertaken in the various stages of the risk management plan
- considering and making recommendations to Council on appropriate development controls
- determining and advising on appropriate options for the management of flood risk
- identifying implementation strategies for flood risk management plans
- monitoring and assessing the effectiveness of the flood risk management plans during and after implementation.

Options that could be considered include (but are not necessarily limited to) land use planning options, engineering works and planning for emergency and evacuation works. Any options presented will have regard to the role of other authorities involved in floodplain management.

In addition to flood risk management, the committee may also be required to provide advice on other stormwater programs run by Council. Such advice will be incorporated into the committee's agenda as required and topics will match the technical skills of the committee members.

Membership

The membership of the committee shall comprise:

- two Councillor Representatives (voting members) – Chairperson and Deputy Chairperson appointed by Council. All other Councillors are welcome to attend (as observers)
- up to six residents from the local community (voting members) – representing local community, business and industry (preference for one when nominated) and environmental interests (preference for one when nominated) associated with the floodplain
- two Council staff (voting members) - Manager Technical Services and Manager Environment and Sustainability
- representative(s) from NSW Department of Planning and Environment (only one voting member) – Floodplain Engineer
- representative(s) from the NSW State Emergency Services (SES) (only one voting member) – Northern Region SES and Ku-Ring-Gai SES
- four Council staff (non-voting members) - Team Leader Natural Areas, Team leader Development Engineers, Water and Catchments Program Leader and Drainage Assets Engineer
- representative(s) from Sydney Water (only one voting member)
- representative(s) from Transport for NSW (only one voting member)
- representative(s) from National Parks and Wildlife Service (only one voting member)
- ex-officio members (non-voting members) as required.

Councillors are appointed to the committee by resolution of Council.

The committee term continues unless the committee is dissolved by resolution of Council.

The role of Council staff is mainly coordination and provision of local specialist advice. Recommended final flood risk management studies will require significant input from staff before submission to Council.

Technical sub-committees may be established within the committee structure on an as-needs basis to complete tasks emanating from the deliberations of the committee. Each technical sub-committee will be led by a member of the committee and provide the communication link between the committee and the technical sub-committee.

Ex-officio members may be called upon to assist the committee from time to time, because of their expertise or knowledge in a specific area. They may attend meetings and provide input, papers or presentations in the meetings.

Expressions of interest for community representatives will be sought by public advertisement in local newspapers and Council's website and by personal invitation. Selection (if required) will be made in accordance with Council's Code of Conduct for Community Representatives and the selection criteria.

The selection criteria are as follows:

- ability to represent either community, business or environmental interests in matters related to floodplain management
- a broad interest and understanding of flooding and floodplain risk management
- ability and preparedness to attend and actively participate in regular meetings which may be during business hours or in the evenings
- commitment to floodplain management in the Ku-ring-gai LGA.

process. It is anticipated that meetings (limited to a maximum 2 hours) will be required approximately every 2-3 months (i.e. 4-6 meetings per year). The location, date and starting time for meetings will be advised on the agenda.

The committee shall meet in Council premises although some site inspections may be required. Where meeting in Council premises is not practical, Councillors and staff shall be able to attend and participate by audio-visual link where it is reasonably practicable to do so.

Proposed meeting arrangements shall be in line with the requirements of any NSW Office of Local Government circulars relating to attendance by Councillors and others at council and committee meetings that are current at the time.

Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the Chairperson, provided that at least seven days written notice is first given to members.

The outcome of meetings shall be reported to Council after each meeting.

Voting

The committee shall operate in a democratic manner keeping formalities to a minimum. However, should a matter require a formal recommendation to Council, the matter shall be put to members in the form of a motion, which must be seconded and then voted upon. A simple majority vote, by members present, shall carry the motion. The Chairperson shall have a casting vote in the event of a tie but should first consider these terms of reference and the status quo.

Any member dissenting to make a recommendation to Council may have their name recorded if they so wish.

Attendance by audio-visual link

Members of the committee may attend meetings by audio-visual link, in accordance with the Council Advisory and Reference Committee Guideline.
